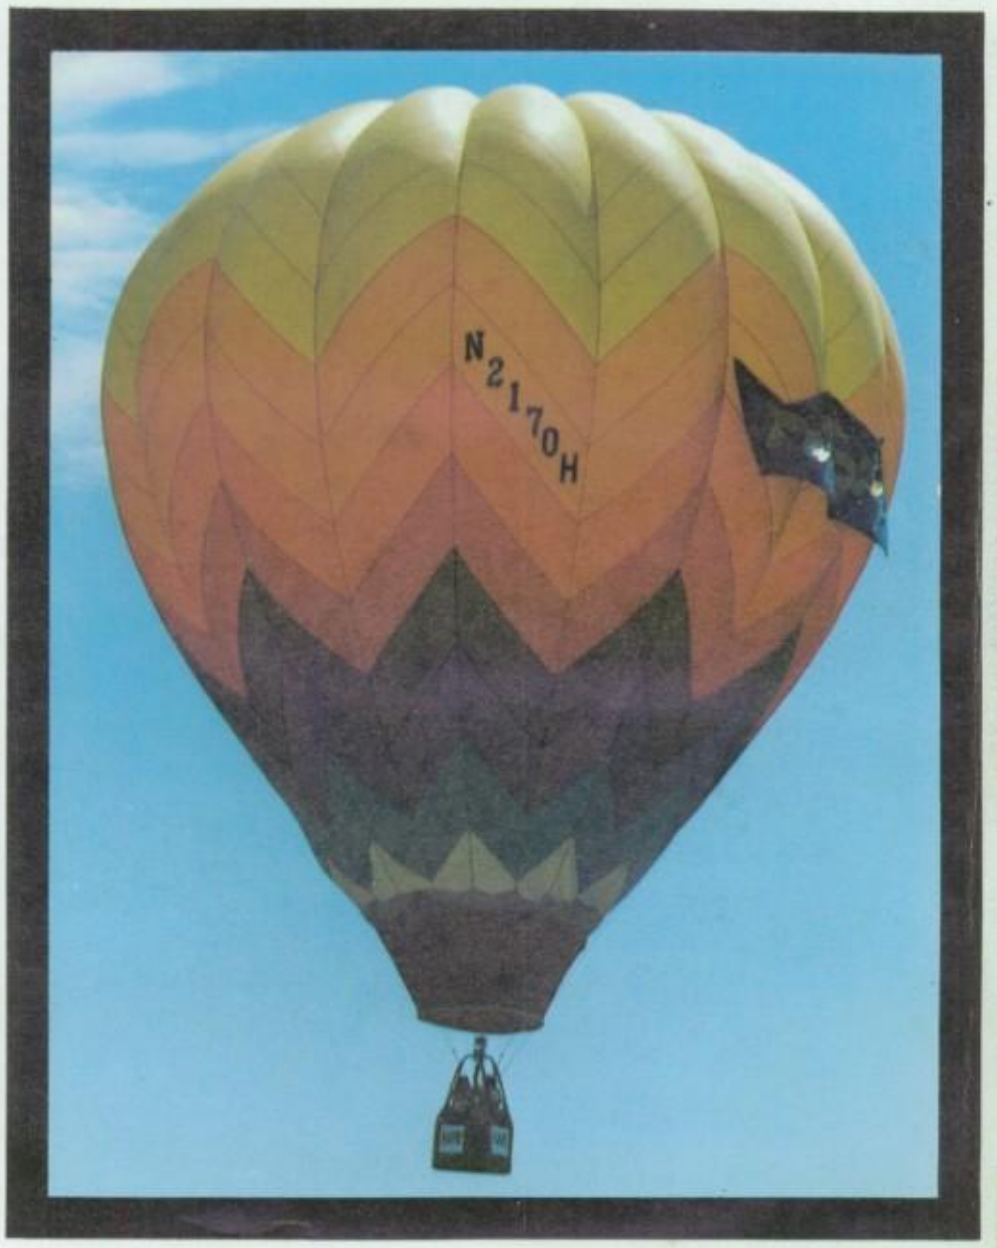
Onward and Upward



In Philippians 3:14 we are challenged to "press on toward the upward call of God in Christ Jesus." All throughout the Bible, we are encouraged to strive onward and upward in our Christian walk. Since our ultimate goal is to reach Christ's character, our climb is always in an upward direction. His love surrounds and encourages us, making our walk all the easier if we will lean on Him.

Each year our school reaches new heights as we seek to serve Him. We feel the students reflect this same principle in all areas of life on campus: studies, athletics, social events, and spiritual development. With the example set by the teachers and staff members, a clearer view of the Christian march can be seen.

As you progress through our '83 Captain's Log, we hope it serves as a reminder to you of our steady growth in the faith. Like the symbols representing the upward direction on these pages, we too can soar to new heights by following our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. His hand will direct us as we proceed onward and upward toward our final destination — heaven.

Well Brion,

Weive finally reached the end of the year. Just think no more English! Yeah! Well, at least not until next year! I never did get to talk to you a whole lot but I can't tell from the little I did get to speak with you and the way you act and talk to others that you're a really sweet and caring guy. I wish you all the luck in the world for this summer and future ambitions. Maybe next year when we're wild and crazy seniors I'll get to know you better. Have a great summer and prepare for Sen-or-hood!

Love ya,
Kelly

When life becomes a heavy load,
An upward climb, a winding road,
In daily tasks, I'd faithful be,
For that is all God asks of me.

A Special "Mom" for Santa Fe

When you think: loving, patient, helpful and warm, who pops into your mind? A lot of people would say, "Mom." Well, at Santa Fe Christian, we have our own mom and she's all these things and more. Mrs. Evelyn Huey is hospitable, sensitive, sweet, considerate, spunky, humorous and a little mischievous. She's always smiling and glowing with love.

As for Mrs. Huey's professional title, she is the school receptionist. However, she has made her job into more than that. For four years she has also been the resident nurse and the welcoming committee. Mrs. Huey gives everyone a sense of belonging, as she recognizes all students by name or calls them by one of her pet names: "honey", "sweetheart", or "dear". She has been blessed with special talents. For instance, when someone is feeling low, Mrs. Huey can always bring back sunshine. Stumbling into the office, a student will be greeted by her perceptiveness which supplies all the sympathy and love anyone needs to cure a stomach ache, sore throat, or skinned knee.

During these past few years Santa Fe Christian has been growing in character and we can't help but feel that Mrs. Huey has been one reason for that. From helping to order the letters for the marquee to researching the history of our campus, she typifies the growth process going on around us. She radiates the joy of Jesus, setting an example for all of us as we head onward and upward in the Christian life. Mrs. Huey, "Mom", Santa Fe loves you!

ORGANIZATIONS

Students Develop Responsibility

Our school was involved in many exciting activities this year, as a result of the diligent work of the Associated Student Body (ASB). From Homecoming Week to the Spring Faire, the students displayed leadership and Christ-like service. ASB Advisor Mr. Whaley again proved to be a large asset in this time-consuming role. Weekly meetings were held on Mondays during lunch to plan upcoming events.

The responsibility of the students increased this year in both ASB classes. Conflicting schedules provided for one class without the supervision of a teacher. A great deal of maturity was shown on behalf of the students, who completed their work and necessary tasks. The other ASB class, directed by Mr. Whaley, proved to have excellent dedication as well, while accomplishing a lot of hard work. As a result, the year in ASB was a training in both leadership and responsibility, qualities which will help these young people in their future.

"Thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land" (Job 1:10). The yearbook staff was really blessed this year as they labored hard and long organizing our '83 Captain's Log. Many hours were spent carefully considering such important issues as theme, dedication, and division pages. As a team, the staff grew in spirit, friendship, and unity. Individually, skills became magnified. They strove to illustrate the development of the school as it proceeded onward and upward.

Yearbook Takes Off

Ministry in Music

This year's Chorale took on a new direction under Mr. Dale Barkley. He is new here at SFC, but has a long background in music. He graduated from the University of Wyoming and then taught music for three years at a public school in Wyoming. This is his first year at a Christian school, and he says he enjoys it. The class accompanist this year was Mrs. Oesterheld. She has helped greatly in teaching the choir. Mr. Barkley's goal for this year was to create a giving attitude as his students sang and witnessed. He wanted his class to see music as a means of ministry to others and the glory of God.

Singing Praises to God

Make a joyful sound to the Lord, all ye lands! Come into His presence with singing. Psalms 100:2.

It was with this verse in mind that the ensemble grew. They progressed in both unity and skill, representing the Lord at various schools, churches, meetings, and a two week tour over Easter vacation.

Ensemble was made-up of four boys and four girls. They not only sang alone, but backed up the Chorale as well, Dawn Ayles, Mike Hopkins, and Gloria Huffman helped the group with sound and lighting. The ensemble constantly praised the Lord for their many chances to witness!

Band Marches Onward

Our own SFC band marched onward this year in both musical ability and talent. With the direction of Mr. Nelson, the band had an opportunity to play not only at school functions, but also many other activities.

Our staff would like to give each individual member recognition, which they truly deserve.

We've Got Spirit

Make all joy complete by being of the same mind, maintaining the same love, united in spirit, intent on one purpose. Phil. 2:2.

This year, Santa Fe's cheerleaders were intent on one purpose — increasing their servant's hearts. Under the direction of Mrs. Cox, they cheered for all sports, not just one or two sports, they also led our pep rallies. All of the cheerleaders practiced a minimum of 10 hours a week, which was evident to all who saw them cheer on the Navigator teams.

Melanie, we are cheering for your continued success and happiness in life. Prov. 3:5, 6 Love, Your Parents.

FCA

What does FCA mean? Well, it stands for Fellowship of Christian Athletes and that's exactly what it is. FCA is a group of girls and boys who are athletes and enjoy involvement and contact with others at Bible studies and social get-togethers. For example, girls' FCA met this year quite frequently on Wednesday mornings for breakfast and sharing of the Word. Wednesday afternoon was the designated time for the boys' group to absorb themselves in fellowship with the Lord. However, there were times when the two groups met together. The Christmas party was one such event which was a hugh success.

Miss Kathy Charles and Mr. Bob Tatum were both strong leaders. They did a good job at encouraging their individual clubs to study scripture and grow in the Lord. Because of groups like FCA, Santa Fe students have been aided in their upward climb with Christ.

NHS

For everyone to whom much is given, of him shall much be required. (Luke 12:48). It was with this theme verse that the National Honor Society excelled still more in not only academics, but also their Christian walk. Advisor, Miss Dunn, helped to unite the group and organized activities such as serving refreshments for Career Day and taking field trips to the J. Paul Getty Museum and two universities. In March, seventeen new members were inducted.

Parent Teacher Fellowship

We are fortunate to have many concerned and hard working parents in our Parent Teacher Fellowship (PTF) at Santa Fe. According to their constitution, the purpose of the organization is "to exalt the virtues of the Christian life, Christian home, and Christian school; to promote fellowship among the parents, teachers, and students; and to assist the school at social and other functions as needed." They met every month to decide issues, help in upcoming events, and give suggestions in the running of the school.

This year our PTF had the best turnout in our school's history, receiving 180 members. Besides organizing the quarterly programs, they were involved in refreshment serving at school events and helping with our Spring Faire.

We appreciate their deep concern and willing service in the progression of our school.

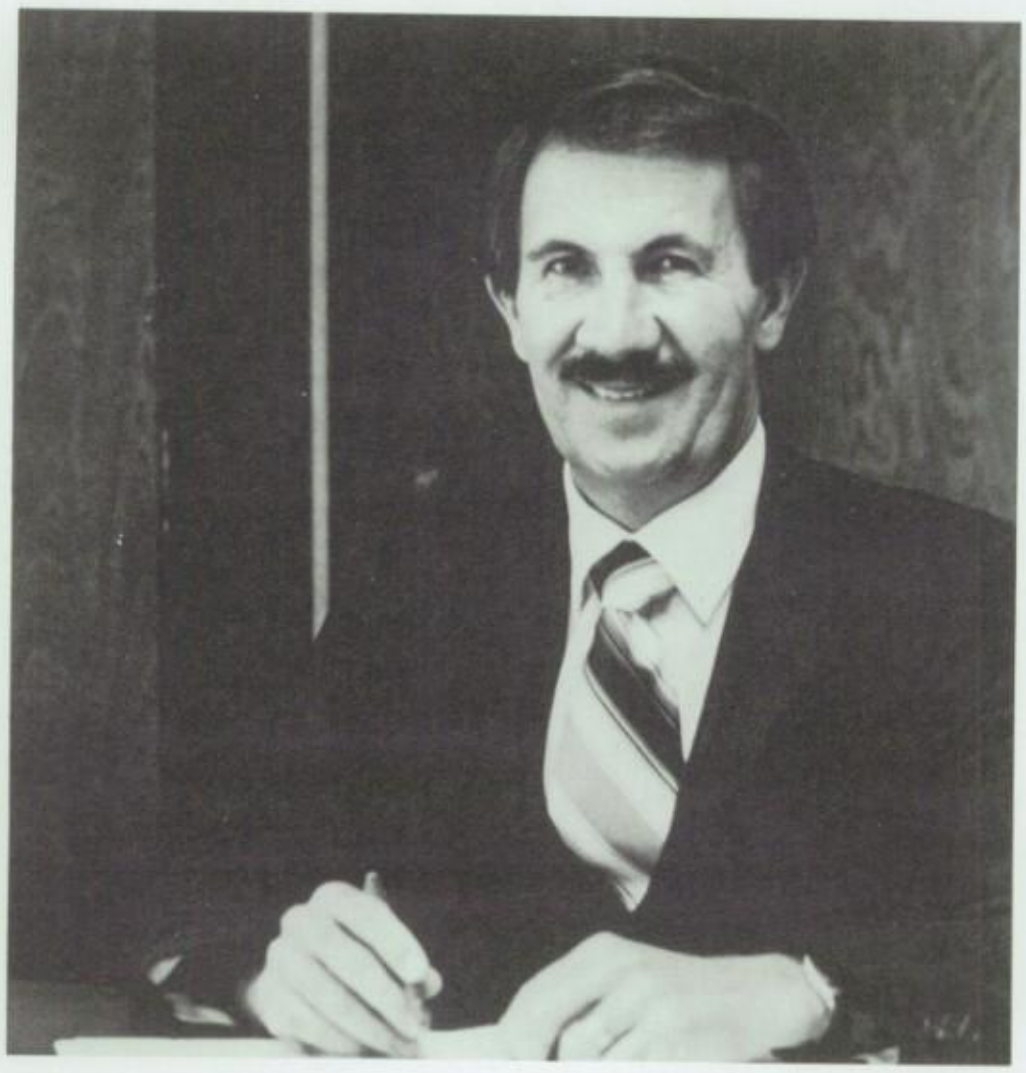
Santa Fe Administration & Counselors — Our Leaders



The hard working people behind our school are constantly striving to make Santa Fe a better place. Heading up the CUSSD is Dr. Alex Lackey. Mr. Ross, Mrs. Gest, and Mr. Hagin are our own school administrators who make every effort to maintain high standards for Sante Fe Christian.

Mr. Ross, a humble and loving person, makes a point to spend time talking with the students in order to know each one personally. Mrs. Gest, Vice Principal for the girls and humorous Senior English teacher, is also familiar with the students on a one to one basis. Mr. Hagin, Vice Principal for the boys, and coach of our track team, is always an encouragement and shows love for the students as he handles various problems.

A new system for counseling this year provided an academic counselor for each high school grade; Mrs. Gest guided the Seniors, Miss Dunn — Juniors, Mr. Day — Sophomores and Mr. Hagin — Freshmen. The entire administration and counseling staff was committed to spiritual growth in the body of Christ. With the support of the Board, they were able to supervise the direction of our entire school.

Thanks to Our Teachers

In the Word it tells us that "the goal of our instruction is love from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith" (I Tim. 1:5). Our teachers at Santa Fe truly reflected these sentiments in all their teaching. Not just primarily concerned with the academic growth of the students, the staff emphasized spiritual development in all of their classes. If a student was in need of extra help, any one of our teachers would be more than happy to spend his or her own time in service.

We wish to express our thanks to such devoted and caring teachers. They show the love of Jesus, setting an example for all of our students to follow.

From the Fall of '77 to Graduation

When our school first opened in 1977, these eleven students began their seventh grade year. Now, six years later, they are the first graduates to have completed all their Jr. and Sr. high school years at Santa Fe.

Dear Seniors,

The theme for your last year of high school has been "spiritual growth." I could think of no better send off to college, jobs or marriage than this vital area of your lives. There is no more important area in the Christian life once you have begun the process by accepting Jesus Christ as your personal Savior. Now you begin the growth process in making Him the Lord (ruler, master) of your life.

Ephesians 4:15 says "we are to grow up in all ways unto Him, who is the head, even Christ." If each of us did not physically grow people would become concerned and run medical tests to determine why. If no mental growth was apparent there would be special assistance required to meet these particular needs, perhaps even a specialized school or institution. The challenge in the verse above is to be growing spiritually in every area of our lives.

It is exciting to think that God enables us to grow in every area of our lives. In order to grow, you must be fed. The Word of God is our spiritual food. The Bible gives us food for every single area of our lives: work, relationships, personal problems, finances, love, marriage, family, church, habits, and personality. Hebrews 5:12-14 talks about progressing from the milk of the Word to the solid food (or meat) of God's Word.

You can not just keep stuffing yourself with spiritual food, though, or you will become spiritually fat. You must exercise and use that spiritual food. Exercise is accomplished through using God's principles in every area of our lives. With a good spiritual diet (of God's Word) and good exercise (prayer, practice in applying God's Word) we will "Grow in all ways unto Him, who is the head, even Christ."

In Him,

Randy Ross

Servants First

The baseball team started out a little wet, with the rainy weather experienced in March. During the "Monsoon" they gathered to talk over their strategies. A real trust and faith in God was in total control!

The total release concept was also applied. Coach Cagwin built up an excellent attitude in his players. He encouraged the team with the quote, "If you want to be a leader, you must be a servant first." His emphasis this year was on doing everything to the best of one's ability.

Giving Their All

Intensive care! That was the theme for this year's basketball season. It referred to the idea of giving all you have, both on and off the court. The players were to care for one another's needs, as well as caring for opposing teams' members.

With the great training and Christ-like example of Coach MacKay, the team developed in many ways. They were also helped with the assistant coaching of Ron Tyler, a Pastor from Encinitas. Their ministry to the team, both spiritually and physically, encouraged a giving attitude among all the team members. This provided a great witness to all the teams they played.

SFC JV Basketball Shoots for a Good Witness for Christ

Under the leadership of first time basketball coach for SFC, Charles Cox, the Junior Varisty team was able to learn a great deal. With ten players in all, the team was working well together and grew unified in the Lord. Coach Cox was a great blessing as he provided both leadership and a caring heart.

As inspiration for the team was the team verse Phil. 4:8-9, "Finally, brethern, whatever things are true . . . let your mind dwell on these things . . . practice these things; and the God of peace shall be with you." This attitude was evident to all who were able to view their games.

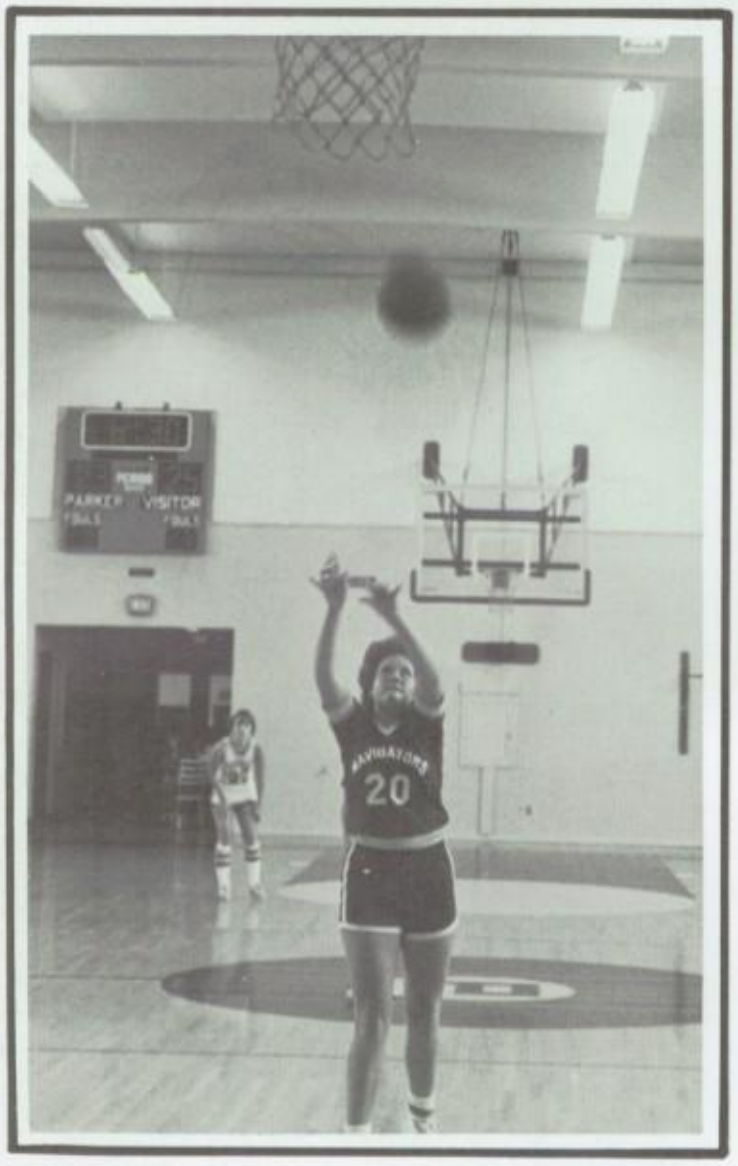
basketball



Our SFC girls' basketball team really excelled in their learning and playing abilities this year, with the encouraging teaching of Coach MacKay. The team was a combination of Juniors and three Seniors. Besides the regular league games, the girls were given the opportunity to play some 2A teams like Escondido High and Carlsbad High. Matt. 7:7 was an inspiration as the team verse, "Ask and it shall be given unto you, seek and you shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you." The season created many new friendships, experiences in witnessing, and a lot of fun times!

The J.V. team was another example of a Santa Fe first. With the brand new coach there were original methods of strategy introduced. The team consisted of Sophomores and Freshmen. Most of them were first year players. The girls learned about the Total Release concept including an inner lesson of the second mile. The second mile is described in Matthew 5:41, which reads "And whoever shall force you to go one mile, go with him two." The girls displayed this in support of other players and physical drive.

This year the Cross Country team under the direction of Coach Hagin and assistant Coach Michel, prospered a great deal. It was the largest team our school has ever had, made up of 13 boys and 13 girls.

It was a truly exceptional year with our girls placing 1st and our boys placing 2nd in their league. Our boys' team placed 9th in CIF, and two of our girls, Julie Scrivner and Kim Huey, placed 24 and 25. The team's focus wasn't to win but to excel for Christ. What a great witness!

Growing in Intensity

Yet those who wait for the Lord will gain new strength; they will mount up with wings like eagles. They will run and not get tired, They will walk and not become weary.

In the 1982 Varsity Football season all the team fulfilled their goal, which was to develop to their maximum potential as athletes and Christians. Both players and coaches grew together in Christ as the season progressed. The Navigators showed strength in both offense and defense throughout the year with a record of three wins and six losses.

The best memories of the 1982 season were the "Red Hen" parties and the "Put Up" times after each game. The "Red Hen" party after the Imperial game was the most memorable. Many people re-dedicated their lives to the Lord. The "Put Up" time after the last game against Holtville probably best reflected the unique quality of our athletic program — love.

Whatever you do, do your work heartily, as for the Lord rather than for men. Colossians 3:23

This year the Junior Varsity played with intensity for the Lord. In all workouts and games they concentrated on total releasing for Him. Using Col. 3:23 as a guide, they were always encouraging one another to give their all. Although the Junior Varsity never won a game, they were always thankful.

The Varsity and J.V. coaches, Tatum (defensive coordinator), Arvin (defensive line), Cagwin (offensive coordinator), Linker (offensive line), Palafox (offensive backs), and Engstrom (offensive ends) were all pleased with the results of both teams. Since the majority of the Junior Varsity team (16) was made up of Freshmen, everyone holds high hopes for next season.

Santa Fe's soccer team started fresh this year under the direction of Mr. Romaine. Soccer was not new to him since he has had experience in both playing and coaching. After graduating from Cedarville College and Capitol Bible Seminary he coached in Washington D.C. for 3 years.

He hoped for the players not only to learn how to play soccer, but also to build Christian leadership. The players' attitudes were good and everyone got along well. Each athlete worked to enhance these qualities: total releasing, commitment and faithfulness. The team proved to be strong throughout the season building Christian leadership.

Tush,
Aren't you glad I made you play b-ball. It was fun wasn't it. I hope you have a blast this summer. And I'm glad I was able to get to know. But please don't listen to that "hard core crap" Because its not good for your soul or your mind.

Batting for Jesus

The 1982 Softball season was a great success for all the girls who participated. They were truly blessed by the fellowship and growth that took place among the players. There was a great turnout for the team, reflecting the enthusiasm evident in their hearts.

Coach Charles, with the assistance of Coach Linker, provided the examples which helped to teach the team. Coach Charles led the team's hitting skills while Coach Linker taught skills in pitching and outfielding. Both their willingness and devotion was a ministry to the girls, who strove onward and upward in their faith.

Every person has special gifts and talents, whether intellectual, spiritual, or athletic. All those on Santa Fe's track and field team had a special gift and the will to represent Jesus, to be a witness and testimony through their abilities and talents. Coaches Hagin, Michel and Whaley emphasized this throughout the season. This year, there were 16 events for the boys and 13 events for the girls, including the shot-put, discus, long and high jumps, pole vaulting, sprints and distance running. Practices began on February 14. Everyone worked hard and competed in meets. A distinction of this year's team was the way they were so determined to excell and to encourage one another.

Developing Unity and Fellowship

If therefore, in relationship with Christ there is any encouragement, if there is any persuasive appeal of love, if there is any fellowship in the Spirit, if any affections and compassion, being united in spirit, having the same attitude . . . (Phil. 2:4) Our team displayed this attitude in all their actions. They were united and like-minded. They displayed love, tenderness and compassion.

Through studies about the fruits of the spirit, the team grew spiritually with one another and the Lord. The team also grew skillfully. This consisted of mental and physical conditioning. Coach Charles stressed isolation. That is, when a player made a mistake she was to forget it and go on with the rest of the game.

Athletic skills were highly developed through hard practices and the Total Release concept. This paid off as the Lord gave Varsity the opportunity to enter the CIF playoffs. The overall season was a successful one, full of growth in many areas.

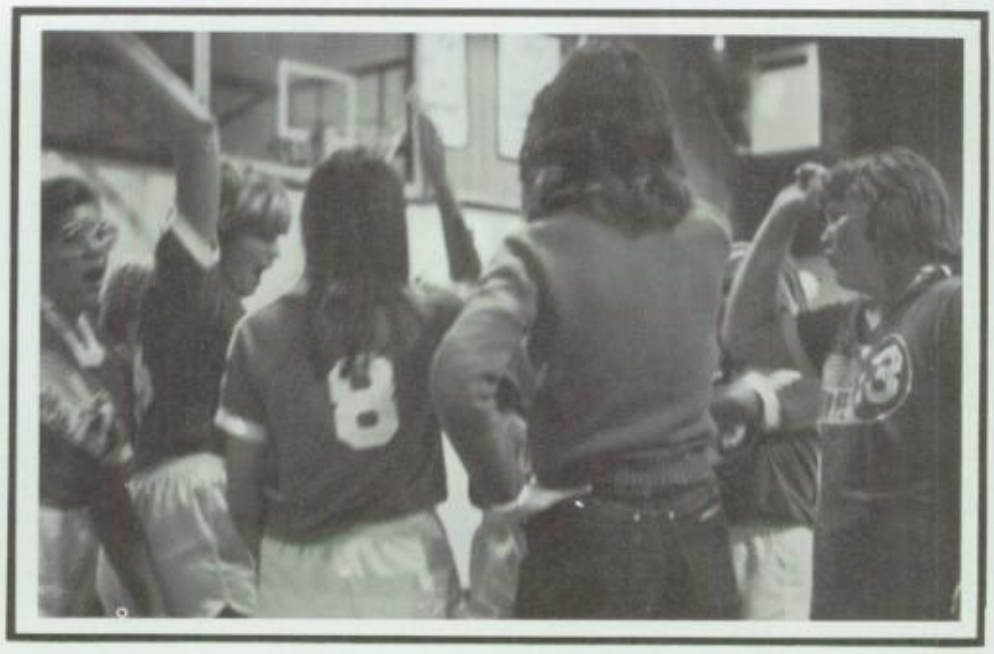
A Fresh Start

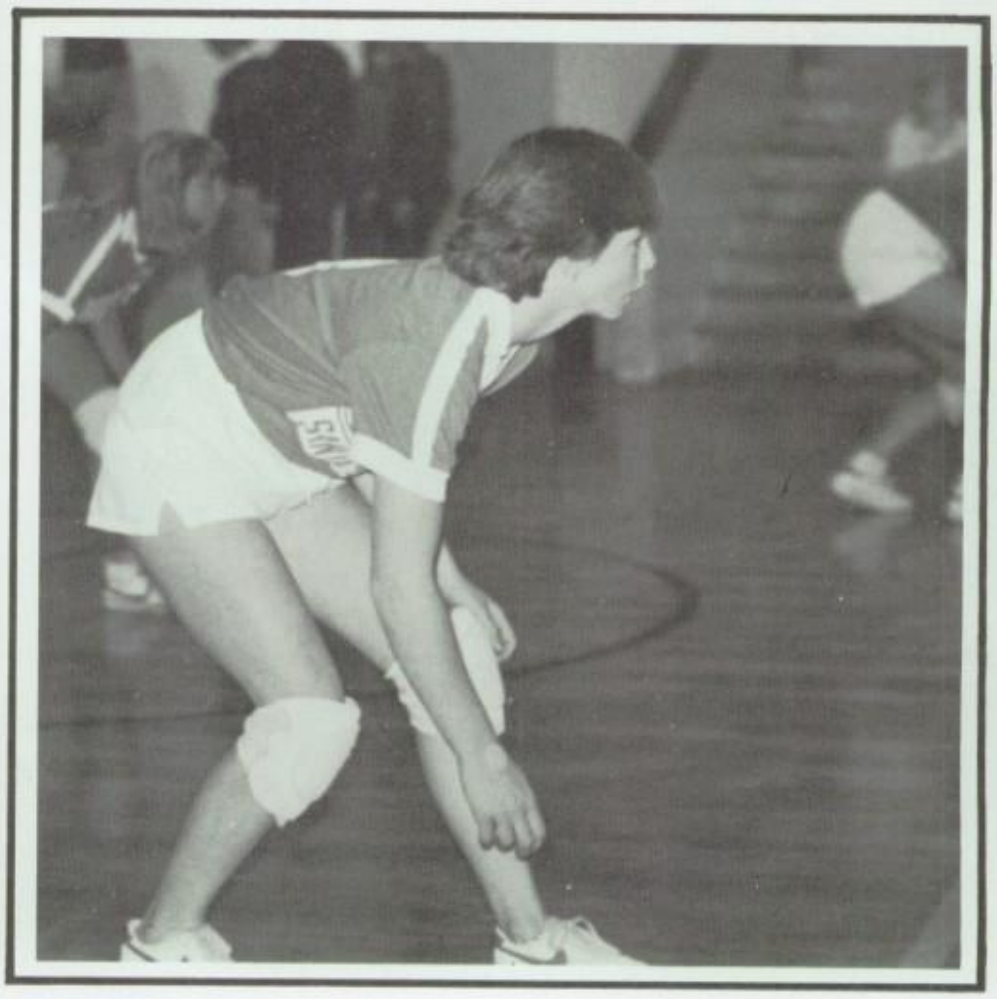
Volleyball was really a unique experience this year for the J.V. team. It consisted of first year players as well as a new coach. Since seven of the players were Freshmen, they received their first taste of a team sport during this season. They learned about the Total Release concept and how to apply it during practice and actual game situations.

The girls moved onward in skills, in friendships, and in their Christian walks. They all learned how to bump, set, spike and serve along with their spiritual development. The team prayed to be a good witness to other teams. This was accomplished through strong encouragement from the benches, a general feeling of closeness between players, and radiation of joy, even during losses.

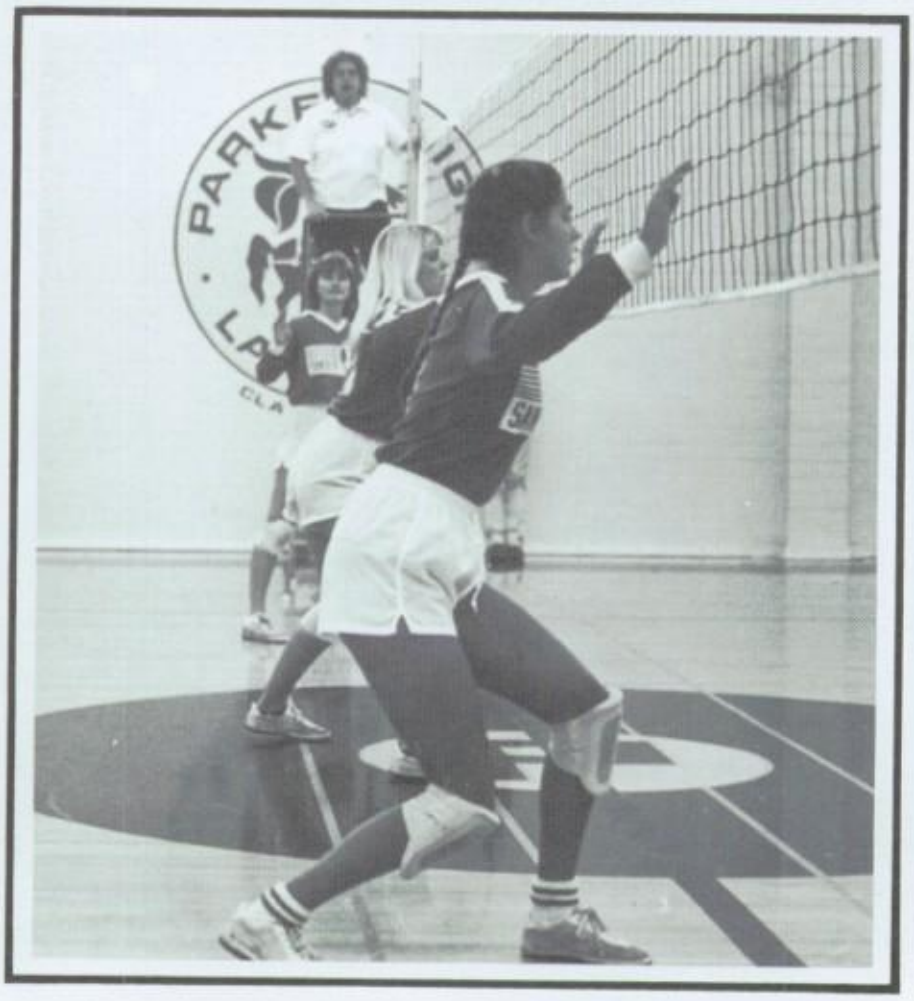
First year coach, Miss Harris, grew along with the girls, making Junior Varsity Volleyball a good learning experience this year.

Bump, Set, Spike . . .





The Lord has shown through each of you and your exceptional efforts for His glory. Bonnie



Thank you, Lord, that I could "serve" you through volleyball. Laura Cagwin

ACTIVITIES

Registration

As the new school year began, the students were faced with the familiar tasks of filling out emergency cards, organizing schedules, and choosing lockers. The signing up for classes began early in the morning with the seniors and lasted all afternoon, when all the freshmen were registered. The ASB sold locks, P.E. uniforms, ASB cards, and school sweatshirts during the day. Registration, however, was not only a time of completing school tasks, but also a chance to see the excited faces of new students and get reacquainted with friends from the previous year.

Welcome Week

Santa Fe welcomed new students this year with an ice cream social and the annual beach party. Students made new friends while others were reunited with old ones. It was evident that the love and thoughtfulness of Christ was seen in the student body this past year.

Spirit and Homecoming Week

The students had a chance this year to show how creative they really can be! This all took place during Spirit-Homecoming week. The first day students dressed up as the people they wanted to "grow up to be." Other dress-up days included: Storybook day, Western day and Clash day. Friday, the day before Homecoming, was our traditional Red and White day. Activities at lunch included Gag in the Bag, ASB Couch Pile (annihilating the couch), Box Lunch Social, The Flag Pole Climb, and finally, The Chariot Races.

This all led up to the Homecoming Game on Saturday. The team really got a chance to witness and to show that victory isn't always the most important thing in playing football. At half time, float competition between the classes was the main event as well as the band performance. The Sophomores took the float award, but the Seniors won the overall competition.

The 1982 Jr. High Retreat was a huge success. The students from both the seventh and eighth grades studied and grew in knowledge of the attributes of God. They learned of His protectiveness and unconditional love; His providing nature and goodness. They also grew in Spirit through fellowship.

The students were taught such skills as archery, horsemanship, and First Aid, to name a few. Time was set aside to indulge in such sports as horseback riding, hiking, volleyball or relays. They also played games as a group, consisting of three-legged races, team relays and a counselor hunt.

The speaker, Kim Elmore, spoke to the students' hearts when he illustrated one man's extreme faith in God through puppets. The beauty of God's creation surrounded the camp as the students enjoyed this opportunity.

Senior High Retreat

The annual winter retreat was attended by more than 100 students, who considered it to be a great time. The schedule was divided fairly evenly between learning time and activity time.

Heading up the learning time was the theme Standing Alone Together. It involved a good movie on witnessing to others and the pressures put on teens these days. Also there were intense studies of Psalms 16, 23, 27, and 34. Verdugo Pines was a beautiful location, reflecting God's handiwork. The retreat attenders were surrounded by handsome pines, white snow and softly falling flakes.

Activities consisted of a talent show, tubing and, of course, lots of skiing. For whose who didn't ski, the lodge supplied the fun. There was warmth, hot chocolate and an opportunity for the birth of new friendships. The high school retreat was a terrific time to get away from it all and join with the Lord in fellowship.

3rd Annual Jawg

Many students, faculty members, and parents were involved in this year's JAWG. It was held on Saturday, November 20. All those who couldn't make it on that date could run at other times as long as they reported to Mr. Hagin, the organizer of the event.

Previous JAWGs raised money for the building of new bathrooms and paving the elementary road. This year we were able to collect money in preparing for a very big goal — the building of a gymnasium. The construction is planned for the beginning of the new school year.

SFC's First Career Day

Through our high school years we begin to decide our future careers. This year on November 16, our school had its first Career Day to aid in the student's choice. Many professionals, such as an airline pilot, gave seminars on their careers. In all, we had twenty-three speakers. Our entire student body met for a general session with Mr. Paul Acosta from Point Loma College concerning fields of interest. All of the Juniors and Seniors attended a seminar on how to "Land the Job." The speakers were contacted by Miss Dunn, who organized the event. Overall, the day was a great success, leading the way for many more Career Days at SFC.

(Top Left) Mr. Bill Stone gave us tips on how to land a job. (Right) Mr. Paul Acosta explained to us about finding the right career for each individual's interests. (Middle Left) Lt. Tom Joyce shares with a few interested students about flying F-14's in the Navy. (Lower Left) Mr. Byron Morrill informed students what being a commercial pilot is all about.

Powder Puff

Santa Fe's first powder puff football game was a success. The games consisted of two 20 minute halves with a 5 minute half-time. The first game of the first set was between Freshmen and Sophomores, with the Sophomores as victors. The second game was between Juniors and Seniors. In an overtime sudden death, the Juniors were victorious. When the Juniors and Sophomores played to decide the overall championship, the Juniors clenched the win. Between the games, the guys from each class competed in a cheerleading competition.

After the games, more excitement followed with a spaghetti dinner and scavenger hunt, where the students dressed up in costumes. Coordinators Mr. Michel, Mrs. Cox, Heidi Bott and Staci Wright all worked hard. The profits from the day's events went toward the Junior/Senior Banquet.

A Festive Season

The Christmas season was a particularly festive time at SFC. Our campus was brightly decorated, reflecting the holiday spirit evident in the students. Among the many happenings were our Red, Green, and White Day, Christmas card delivering, and the ASB Christmas tree. Santa Fe Christian was filled with the love and peace brought by this special time of year, the celebration of Christ's birth.

SFC Chapels

This year Santa Fe's chapels were truly inspiring. The first chapel was led by Mr. Ross, speaking on our spiritual lives. He set forth the goal for SFC this year — Spiritual Growth. Spiritual Emphasis week was in late October and our speaker was Mr. Ken Overstreet. He spoke on the need for Christ in our lives, how we must live for Him through faith, in all things.

Higher standards were set this year for chapels. Santa Fe's Chaplain, Eric Jiles, provided leadership as he helped to set up chapels. There were various singing groups who came to minister to us in music, such as the Calvary Mountain Boys, the Korean Girls' Choir, and the Heritage Singers. Our hearts were moved and inspired by the words of our guest speakers like Greg Lane, Martin LaHaye, and Don Talley. There were many more blessings through movies, skits, and times of sharing together.

Our special campus here at SFC has its own unique history. For only six years has this site been known as Santa Fe Christian. Previously, the campus was known as the San Diego Military Academy and even earlier, the Las Flores Inn. Many changes have occured over the nearly fifty years of its existence.

In the 1930's, with the crowds created during the horse racing season, the Las Flores Inn was constructed. It saw the majority of its business during the summer months when the gambling crowd reached its peak. The Inn, located at the top of Solana Drive (now Academy Dr.), had cottage-style motel rooms, which lined a swimming pool. Despite its innocent outward looks, the Inn was known for its fast crowds. There wasn't enough business through the unproductive winter months, and the Inn saw many changes in ownership. The days of the Las Flores Inn finally ended in 1958 when the San Diego Military Academy was formed.

In order to transform a motel into a boarding school many changes had to take place. Mr. Bitterlin, headmaster of the SDMA, was the main influence during the construction. He located surplus school buildings for only $500, which were made into classrooms (now the 200 building, science and band rooms). After school began in September 1958, the first need was for a library, followed by the construction of the administration building in 1961. With an increase in enrollment new facilities for the younger students had to be met, so the elementary building was built. The Senior Class of 1963 donated a Senior lounge (now our teachers' lounge) as their graduating gift, which they built themselves. In 1964, the tennis courts were added to the school. Originally the campus included 20 acres, but during the building of Interstate 5 it was reduced by 3 acres. Other changes took place such as the football field developing and the reconstruction of the Las Flores bar (now our art room) into part of the cafeteria.

As the Military Academy grew in enrollment, the school board saw that the buildings couldn't facilitate the students properly. It was for this reason that the SDMA was put up for sale in 1976. Wanting to see the school continue as an educational institution, not commercial property, Mr. Bitterlin along with other stockholders negotiated with the Christian Unified Schools. A price was agreed upon, and the campus became Santa Fe Christian.

Even in the few years Santa Fe has been in existence, we have seen a number of changes. First of all, the boarding rooms had to be changed into classrooms or offices. During the first few years there was no chapel to meet in. It wasn't until Scott Memorial North was built that the students were able to have chapels indoors. There were also renovations of buildings which provided for bathrooms and a yearbook room (SDMA's first infirmary). The parking lot was paved for students' cars and P.E. rooms were added, with the completion of the Temple Room, for weight lifting. Just recently, our classrooms had accoustical tiles installed to reduce the noise created from the freeway.

Santa Fe has come a long way in six years and still has big plans ahead! This summer the building of our new gym starts. Our school looks forward to its future, as it continues to grow onward and upward as both a witness to the community and an educational service to the students.

Memories

How long is the school year? This is the time memories are made. Do you remember: The chapel vibrated with the monstrous screams of school spirit at the pep rally . . . Cal-Trans blocked out some of the freeway noise in the 200 building, science and band rooms . . . We found Mr. Michel had a great talent when "Howard Cosell" came to visit . . . Homecoming week was full of laughs: the underclassmen broke the ASB couch, class floats were added to the annual agenda, our friends gagged on sardines, tomatoes and smashed bananas, the three blind mice entertained us, and Mr. Michel played a statue . . . A bouncing baby girl was God's gift to the Sheck's . . . All the Junior Highers froze on their retreat . . . Congratulations were in order when Bethany Ann MacKay was born . . . Basic Youth taught us a lot . . . We found out that we wanted to be policepersons & doctors at the first annual Career Day . . . The cross country team didn't know they qualified for CIF until two hours before the meet . . . Natural Quenchers made their debut at the lunchline and were an immediate success (especially the Pineapple Coconut) . . . We noticed what cute cheerleaders boys make and what buff football players girls can be . . . Mr. LaHaye warmed us with hot chocolate and then cooled us off with lemonade . . . ASB sponsored the first Red, Green, and White Day . . . The green swamp had a visitor when Mr. Ross took the plunge . . . Down from the hills the Calvary Mountain Boys came to entertain us in chapel . . . Junior High intramurals had a great turnout . . . The high school students were late to Mt. High when the bus broke down . . . Our teachers were awesome ski instructors . . . A pair of rented skis were never picked up . . . New friendships were made when the Korean Girls stayed in our homes . . . Mr. LaHaye announced the Jelly Bean Contest winner as if he were at the Academy Awards . . . Rocky Balboa was rough and tough at the Valentine's party . . . Wally went on a date with Hairy Lip and Beaver made friends with Eugene (the smelly kid from Escondido) . . . Students swished down the slopes at Park City, Utah . . . Jonathan Maraj excited us with his enthusiasm for the Lord . . . The rain came, deluging our favorite restaurants, submerging a Pinto on Stevens and almost stranding us all at school . . . The Hagin's became proud parents for the third time as Amanda Joy entered our world . . . English students journeyed to England . . . We went Hawaiian at the Spring Faire . . . We had fun dressing up for our Junior-Senior Banquet . . . And we send the class of '83 on its way!

. . . And in the World

The world is a wonderful, terrifying and curious place. God destroyed the world in Noah's time because of man's sin. Today, the world still envelopes the horrors of crime and wars. In the past year, wars raged across the earth. El Salvador continued on with its fighting along with the counterattack of Iran upon Iraq, while Lebanon held horrid and deathly inner battles.

Here in the Unted States, death was given out freely in bottles of Tylenol. John DeLorean was accused and tried on charges of cocaine dealing in order to bail out his failing automobile business.

This past year had its share of famous deaths also. Among the people were: actor Henry Fonda; political figures Leonid Brezhnev, Princess Grace; and the Lord called to His kingdom Christian singer-songwriter Keith Green. Other deaths included those such as the MASH series and Sugar Ray Leonard's career.

As for the curious aspects of the world, politics is definitely puzzling. This year saw the last apparent battle and defeat of the ERA admendment. Unemployment reached double digit numbers.

In October, there were tears and prayers when the U.S. held a huge memorial service for those soldiers who fought in the Vietnam War. On the brighter side, the medical world was astounded at Barney Clark's surprising success with the first artificial human heart.

The world really enjoyed itself this year, too. The World's Fair entertained the U.S. in Knoxville. World-wide popularities included: E.T., video games, personal computers and Garfield. All of England sighed with admiration and awe when Prince William Arthur Philip Louis was born to Diana and Charles. History was made when the Queen and Prince Philip visited California including a stop in San Diego during February.

Some of the fads surrounding the earth's provinces were: polka dots, women's tuxedos, the Rockabilly look, Capri pants, teddy bears, and "thinking pink."

Finally, sports held quite a few headlines too. San Diego got a breath of hope when the Padres picked up Steve Garvey and the Chargers went to the playoffs. Excited fans were thrilled to see the Clipper's Terry Cummings voted Rookie of the Year. On a more expanded level, the football strike drove fans crazy. Italy won the World Soccer Cup and Wayne Gretzky broke many hockey records. Overall, '82-'83 was a stark contrast of sadness, joy, happiness, and tragedy.

Thanks everyone for the fun times and good years.
We're a great class

"Though youths grow weary and tired, and vigorous young men stumble badly. Yet those who wait for the Lord will gain new strength; they will mount up with wings like eagles, they will run and not get tired, they will walk and not become weary."

Isaiah 40:30,31

Understanding the life of the eagle gives us great insight. As the eagle begins its life, it is taught to fend for itself. The mother feeds her young, and keeps them warm, yet knows she must teach her young to fly. The mother takes care in building the nest before the baby is born, but once the time comes to learn to fly, she is willing to destroy the comfortable environment in order to get the baby out of the nest. She begins to tear their little home apart, bit by bit, and takes the young out of the nest one by one. The young eagle drops like a rock, but the mother is careful to catch it before it hits the ground. She does this until the babies learn to fly, and once they do learn, they are off on their own to live a life of freedom. They go on to raise their own young, and the cycle continues.

When the eagle feels that his time has come, he flies to the nearest cliff, and digs his talons into the edge. The eagle dies looking straight into the sun.

This story resembles our walk with Christ. When He feels that our environments are getting a little too comfortable, He will begin to take things apart little by little. We go through trials in our high school years, and even following those years, but we are constantly surrounded by helpful teachers, loving parents, and our heavenly Father. They will teach us until the time comes to learn to fly — to be out on our own. Because of His grace, when we die, we face the Son, our Lord and Savior . . . Jesus Christ.

The yearbook staff is hopeful that this year has been a valuable one for everyone here at SFC. As we press onward and upward, may we all be learning to take bigger steps in our maturing process. We are grateful to the students, faculty, and staff as they have been an inspiration for this book.

Dear Josh,
Well, its been a fun year. I'm glad you came to this school and I got to know you. Have a wonderful Summer- You Buff dude!
